GALWAY MADE ME A MILLIONAIRE BUSINESSMAN

PREMCHAND ORAON

Latehar, Jharkhand

In life, there are moments where one right decision can change everything. Because of one such decision, Premchand, who lived a simple village life, joined Galway Business in 2011 and gave new wings to his dreams. Today, as the Distributor of the Month, he has proved that Galway truly brings life to dreams. His success journey is not just about reaching a goal, but creating new milestones. Today, his story inspires thousands of Galwians.

Strong Foundation Built in Struggle

Born in Mangra village of Latehar district, Jharkhand, Premchand lived a very simple life. Before joining Galway, his financial condition was very poor. His father worked as a daily laborer, at brick kilns, road construction and digging wells or ponds. Due to financial problems, even his mother had to work. The daily wage was just 150rs and work was not available every day. Earning even 2000 rs per month was difficult.

But today, Premchand has earned up to 2,80,000 rs monthly incentives in Galway. This shows the real power of Galway, from earning 2000 to nearly 3 lakhs per month.

His struggles did not stop there. Due to lack of money, his sister had to leave her studies so that he could continue his education. Later, when she got married, he felt bad that he could not support her properly. But after joining Galway, he fulfilled all her needs, from TV and fridge to financial support.

In this business, success is so big that it fulfills every family dream. Premchand first bought a bike for himself, then gifted one to his father, gave a scooty to his sister and later surprised his daughter with a 12 lakh car (Hyundai Venue) on her birthday. This is the real power of Galway.

Today, his parents live a comfortable life, as their son earns well. His family, parents, wife and daughter is his world. During his early years of study, his goal was to fulfill his family's dreams. His family, too, wished for him to pursue an education and secure a government job. He even made attempts at examinations for forces like the CRPF and BSF clearing the physical tests, filling out applications and working hard, yet each time, some shortcoming or another stood in his way. He faced defeat, yet deep within, a voice persisted one that urged him to achieve something truly significant. Perhaps, in some subtle way, destiny was guiding him toward a different path.

A Turning Point That Changed Everything

That turning point came through his uncle Chhote Lal, who introduced him to Galway. Initially, it looked like just another earning option, but soon it became the biggest opportunity of his life.

31st December 2011 became the start of his new journey. Despite family pressure, he followed his heart and joined Galway. That decision changed his life completely.

Premchand says, a job can fulfill needs, but to fulfill dreams, Galway Business is necessary. Coming from a village, his dreams were small in the beginning. But after seeing the success of his uplines, his thinking became bigger. He realized that Galway is not just income, it gives a big vision.

Strong Determination Made the Difference

In the beginning, he faced rejection, taunts, and criticism. But instead of giving up, he proved himself. Earlier, he did not know about branded clothes and had poor dressing sense. Today, he attends meetings in suits and tie. He once hesitated to speak in public, but now he motivates his team like a senior leader. Along with business skills, he worked on his personality as well.

Training and Tools Became the Growth Engine

Premchand followed every Galway training system sincerely. He learned everything from product retailing to meetings, presentations and training skills. He strengthened his basics through training classes, learned vision and approach in master trainings, gained confidence through product detailing and got motivation from his uplines.

He believes that doing business without learning is just hard work, but learning the right way makes it smart work and success needs both.

He used every business tool, website, social media, one-to-one meetings and powerhouse meetings to grow his business and team. Most importantly, he never gave up on his dreams.

Mentors Gave New Thinking and Energy

Premchand gives full credit of his success to his mentors, Chetan Sir, Kush

Sir and Upline Star GDD Santraj Sir. According to him, they are not just guides but pillars of inspiration. Whenever he felt stuck or faced rejection, his mentors supported and guided him. This mentorship became his biggest strength.

He believes that if you follow the system, the system takes you to success. Today, he is at LDD rank and working hard for further promotions.

He has purchased land worth lakhs and plans to build a big house soon. With Galway Car Bonus, he bought his dream car on his daughter's birthday. From thinking about doing labor work, today he has become a successful businessman.

Dreams Continue to Grow

Now, his dream is to travel abroad with his children. He has not only earned money but also gained respect in society. People who once advised him to take a small job now appreciate his success and decision to join Galway.

He is now preparing for bigger dreams and wants his team to grow with him. He always tells his team, if you want real change in life, take this business seriously. Keep learning, follow your upline and never give up, because hard work never goes waste in Galway.

Premchand's success is the success of every person who was once limited by lack of money, education, or opportunities. With the right platform, guidance, and mindset, anyone can change their destiny. Galway Business is not just a way to earn, it is an ecosystem that transforms a person from within, builds confidence, changes thinking, and shows the path to achieve dreams.

Low Dose, High Impact

POWER OF SILICON ADJUVANTS IN MODERN FARMING

In today's farming, success does not depend only on choosing good seeds, fertilizers, or pesticides. It also depends on how effectively these inputs are used. In this context, silicon spreaders, adjuvants, and stickers have become an important technical solution for farmers. They not only improve spray performance but also help achieve better results at lower cost.

What are Spreaders, Stickers and Adjuvants?

Spreaders, stickers, and adjuvants are support elements that make any foliar spray more effective. Spreaders help the spray spread evenly on leaf surfaces, increasing coverage. Stickers help the spray stick to the leaves, so it remains effective even after rain or irrigation. Adjuvants enhance the performance of both, making the overall spray much more powerful.

Market Myths and Reality

There are many myths in the market about these products. Many people believe that using a higher quantity gives better results, but the truth is that even a small amount can give excellent results when used with the right technique. Another myth is that all spreaders and stickers work the same way. In reality, silicon-based spreaders are much more effective than traditional ones due to their advanced structure. Some farmers think they are an extra cost, but actually they are an investment that increases the effectiveness of sprays and reduces overall cost.

Next-Generation Concentrated Formulation: A Smart Solution

Keeping these needs in mind, new next-generation concentrated formulations have been developed. This modern solution gives better results even in low doses. It ensures better spreading on leaves, so every drop of spray works effectively. It also improves absorption, helping plants take nutrients quickly.

Why is it Important for Every Foliar Spray?

This product is useful with all types of foliar sprays. Whether farmers are spraying nutrients, using herbicides for weed control, or fungicides for disease management, this adjuvant improves spray performance in every case. It increases coverage, improves sticking on leaves, and keeps the effect for a longer time.

Better Performance than Traditional Spreaders

Compared to traditional spreaders, the difference is clear. Vegetable oil or benzene-based spreaders often give limited spreading and slow absorption. In contrast, silicon-based formulations provide fast, uniform, and deeper action. Also, their low dose requirement makes them more economical and easy to use.

Smart Choice for Smart Farmers

In modern farming, choosing inputs is not enough; improving their effectiveness is equally important. Silicon-based adjuvants offer a smart and scientific solution. Farmers who adopt new technologies not only improve crop quality and yield but also increase their income.

So, understanding the need of the time, every farmer should include this modern solution in every foliar spray and experience better, faster, and more effective results in farming.

Towards Mental Equilibrium Through Meditation

In today's fast-paced world, meditation is becoming a necessity for everyone seeking to maintain mental peace and concentration. Cultivating the habit of daily meditation is increasingly regarded as essential for reaching one's goals without burnout and for maintaining balance in life.

With this objective in mind, SEP-Galway Foundation, the CSR part of Galway organizes virtual basic meditation training sessions every month, facilitated by certified trainers. During March 2026, over 350 participants enthusiastically took part in these virtual training sessions, where they learned the nuances of meditation.

All these training sessions, held on various dates, were successfully conducted by certified trainer Chayana Kaushal. Appreciating this initiative, the participants described it as immensely beneficial for both mental health and personal development.

Such initiatives by the SEP-Galway Foundation are proving to be a significant step toward mentally empowering individuals and encouraging them to adopt a positive lifestyle.
